

Alright (Watts)

I may have lost it all today
There were no signs
But it's alright

Am I feeling kind of tossed away?
It crossed my mind
But it's alright

I dropped the ball
Didn't see the wall

I'm standing tall
Moving at a crawl

I may have stalled
And feel black-balled

But hey
Hey hey

Square one seems like pure misery
I'll just keep quiet
So it's alright

Kindness is a liability
And she took mine
So it's alright

I'm turned around
Not quite safe or sound

I'm lying down
In lost and found

I'm inside out
And scream and shout

But hey
Hey hey

You're not my friend
Here I'll say it again
You left me alone in a wasteland
There's something here that wasn't here
When I was there

I may have lost it all today
But I hear you're fine
And I'm alright

I may have gotten tossed away
It's not the first time
Yeah I'm alright

I dropped the ball
Didn't see the wall

I'm standing tall
Moving at a crawl

I'm inside out
And scream and shout

But Hey
Hey hey
