

Blast From the Past [Watts]

Out in the world today

Just minding my storm

And there you were again

It hadn't been too long

Familiar smile

Familiar smell

Familiar eyes

Familiar hell

We took different paths

And now here you are

Standing right in front of me

I know I must stay strong

You're a blast from the past

And you've knocked me off my feet

It's such a contrast

Now there's no 'complete'

You're a blast from my past

All I want to do is leave

You look just the same
Like when you moved on
Did I really let you go?
Do you see that I'm gone?

Familiar style

Familiar tell

Familiar guise

Familiar cell

We took different paths
And now here you are
Digging deep inside of me
I know I must stay strong

You're a blast from the past
And you've knocked me off my feet
It's such a contrast
Yesterday's now on repeat
You're a blast from my past
And I hope you don't leave

You've stirred things up
You stir me up
You're stirring
