

Don't Fear, Don't Die (Heckeler)

V1:

Divine wind guides you on the currents
Escaping the horrifying events
Venomous rage fueled by vengeance
Mindful of the consequence

CH1:

Do not fear and do not die
Ride a bullet into the sky
Embrace the hate and live the lie
Do not love and do not cry

Rise above the coward's tears
Do not see and do not hear
Do not touch and do not feel
Do not speak and do not fear

Do not rest and do not run
God's will be done

V2:

The harms that have been done to you perceived or real, with or without truth
Guide your thoughts and every move
For heinous acts you need no excuse

You are the warden of your own mind
Jailed by masks of twigs and glue
Thought meets action and everyone hides
Shrouded from the assassin's view

CH2:

Do not fear and do not die
Ride that bullet into the sky
Embrace the hate and live the lie
Do not love and do not cry

Rise above the wounded's cries
Do not see and do not hear
Do not touch and do not feel
Do not speak and do not fear

Bridge1:

You seek out others who've suffered the same
Unified only by a common hate
In wartime games you endlessly train

They eat dinner
Laughing and smoking cigars
They read the newspaper
Listening to their iPods
They seem so familiar
They seem so far away
They seem not to notice
They're going to die today

Bridge2:

In the name of your lost family
In the name of your lost country
In the name of your lost innocence
In the name of your lost conscience
God's will be done

V3:

You seek out others who feel the same
Unified only by a common hate
Point your finger in a mirror of blame

Share the burden of guilt's crushing weight

Do not touch and do not feel

Do not save and do not steal

Do not rest and do not run

Do not regret, God's will be done

CH3:

Do not hate and do not lie

Waste that bullet into the sky

Embrace hope and learn to love

Do not fear and do not die

Rise above emotional pain

Do not fight and do not flee

Do not sulk and do not shout

Do not fear and do not doubt
