

Everything Gives Me the Blues (benko)

I want to tell you a story and some feelings I need to express
This whole situation has got me real depressed
I was worried about my money so I went down to the bank,
When I looked at it closely all my investments had done tanked

CH:

Sometimes all I can do is hang my head and cry,
I get the blues so bad I want to lay down and die

I called the girl of my dreams but she had other plans
Many years ago I let her slip right through my hands
That got me drinkin' rot gut whiskey and has led to my demise,
I guess I know by now it should come as no surprise

CH:

I'm so tired and I'm spreadin' the news,
I want to tell all you people
Everything's giving me the blues

I went to the grocery store to get something to eat,
When I got back on the bus I couldn't find a seat
I look at the world situation and national politics
And it's just them rich folk up to their same old tricks

CH:

Sometimes all I can do is hang my head and cry,
I get the blues so bad I want to lay down and die

You know that sometimes people just won't leave me alone,
They're callin' me up and hangin' up on my phone
Through this life I did ramble and I did roam,
Now I'm caught up in malarkey at the old folk's home

CH:

I'm so tired and I'm spreadin' the news,
I want to tell all you people
Everything's giving me the blues

Say What? Do What? No, I don't do that no more... You want me to explain it to ya? You got a lifetime?