

Perfect Woman [Watts]

V1

Through the ether

And the fog

I search for her

Because maybe this

Is only prologue

And anchored by a long wait

All I can do is hold on

Prechorus

No, she doesn't come here often

If she fell from heaven it's something I missed

If her legs are tired she's run right past me

Does a nice girl like her ever come to a place like this?

Chorus

I'm still looking for the perfect woman

Should I just give up?

Or give in?

I'm only human

And she's always looming

Over me

V2

Over the rainbow

But beneath the stars

I can't find her

But maybe she's just

Under my radar

And anchored by a long wait

All I can do is hold on

Prechorus

No, she doesn't come here often

If she fell from heaven it's something I missed

If her legs are tired she's run right past me

Does a nice girl like her ever come to a place like this?

Chorus

I'm still looking for the perfect woman

Should I just give up?

Or give in?

I'm only human

And she's always looming

Over me

Prechorus

No, she doesn't come here often

If she fell from heaven it's something I missed

If her legs are tired she's run right past me

Does a nice girl like her ever come to a place like this?

Does a nice girl like her ever come to a place like this?

Does a nice girl like her ever come to a place like this?
