

SOLITARY (Watts)

So it's just me, myself and I

Again everything just went so damn awry

I might have missed the mark, lost the spark, but gave it the old college try

Devoid of, do you hold for love, and stay on the line?

Am I meant for solitude?

Is it my ineptitude?

I'll just build up my gratitude

For you

When you finally get here

When will you get here?

I'll be waiting right here

Where are you?

So will this pause linger or fly?

Thought we were close, though we were such a far cry

Should I curl up now, take a bow, and wither and die?

Dream girl of mine, give me a sign, are you nearby?

Am I meant for solitude?

Is it my ineptitude?

I'll just build up my gratitude

For you

When you finally get here

When will you get here?

I'll be waiting right here

Where are you?

Oh, I'm laying low

Oh, Can't take another blow

Oh, Will I ever be someone's Romeo?

So it's just me, myself and I

Again everything just went so damn awry
